Music Radar Review

"Crafter has quite rightly paid a lot of attention to its choice of electronics onboard. Sporting a preamp system that mixes the electric tones of the lipstick pickup with an LR Baggs Element pickup, the Crafter very importantly features a phase switch for the fight against feedback and a blend slider for morphing between the two pickup types. For the right person, this is an instrument that will support your songwriting and open up a world of tones that just aren't available on a standalone acoustic or electric."
